WRAD AT CK PRICE BY MRS. HOBBS

Mrs. Hobbs got another Donors Choose project funded this winter and provided over 20 amazing books by 4 award winning authors. This project helped her introduce these wonderful YA authors to over 150 sixth grade middle school students on Wed., Feb. 7 which was World Read Aloud Day (WRAD). She arranged live Zoom meets with each author: Marsha Forchuk Skrypuch, Rachel (RL) Toalson, Kirby Larson, and Lisa Moore Ramee. Her students were able to listen to each author read from their books and then ask many questions to each author in an experience they will remember. This provided opportunities to study many topics including pioneer times, WWII, Japanese internment camps, Ukraine, and other diverse issues, discussing historical significance, life changing events, themes, and learning more about ourselves as a result. Because of this project, her students were able to be inspired by these authors not only to write with a purpose, but also to practice journaling as a means of expression and a way to release their complicated feelings.

WINTER SOCK DRIVE

Your support and generosity made a big difference, and I can't thank you enough!

Thanks to your contributions, we collected 1,825 pairs of socks to help those in need. The socks were separated and were delivered to Mill Street, Fairview, C.K. Price, Orland High School, West Haven, and other senior organizations.

I appreciate everything you've done to make this sock drive a success.
